Introduction

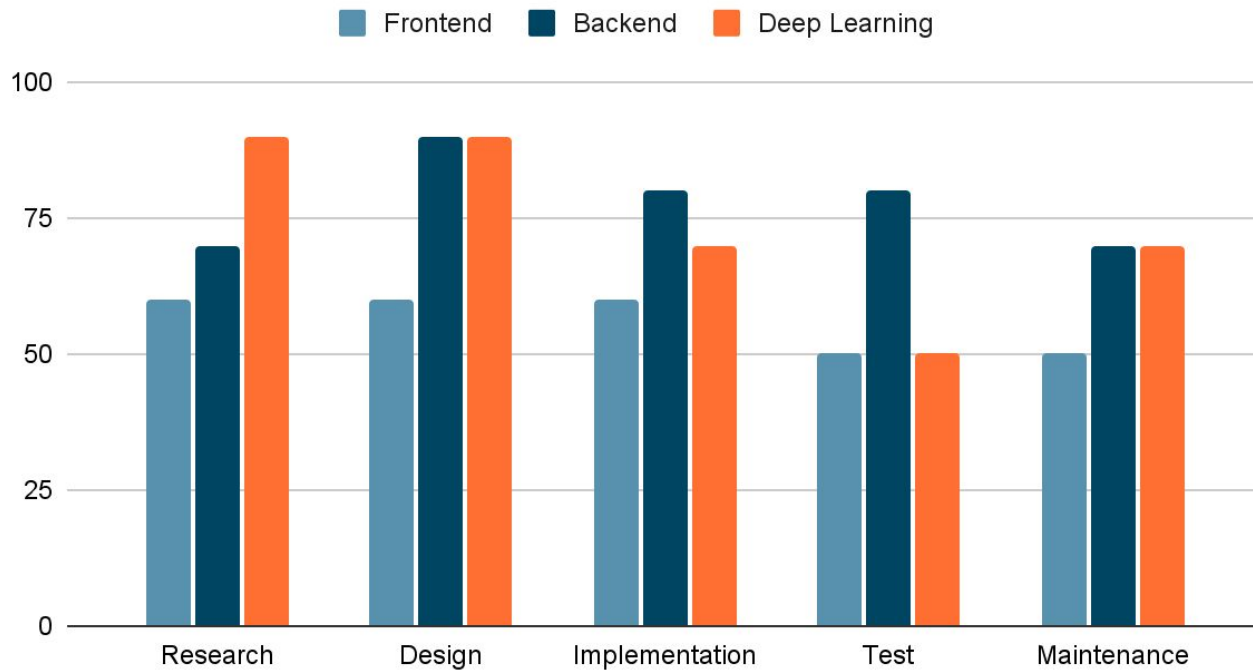

- With the introduction of remote work to the business world, online interviews are becoming the standard in the industry.
- As the number of potential candidates worldwide increases exponentially, the process of elimination becomes harder. Also these interviews must be conducted in a fair and transparent way.
- Interly.ai comes with the promise to be a clear solution to all of this.
- With the AI assisted interviewee assistant tool, it is easier than ever to decide on who you want
- Emotional analysis, stress analysis and deceit detection in real time helps companies to evaluate both interviewees and their interviewers.
